Youth for the Environment

- The “Youth for the Environment: Taking Action for a Sustainable Future” program seeks to empower young people, ages 15-25
- Equipping them with the knowledge, skills, and support necessary to become leaders in environmental advocacy and action.
- This program combines educational workshops, hands-on sustainability projects, and community engagement to inspire young people to address environmental challenges
- Such as waste reduction, pollution, and climate resilience.
- Over 12 months, we aim to reach 200 youth directly, fostering a generation of environmentally-conscious leaders who can drive sustainable change in their communities.
- Focus areas: climate change, recycling, biodiversity, and conservation
- Builds environmental ambassadors in schools and communities
